KEITH NASH | Keith is a self-taught contemporary landscape watercolour artist based in North Norfolk. Passionate about the region's vast skies and wildlife, he works with a limited palette to create atmospheric, impressionistic paintings. His signature elements include dramatic skies, creative lighting, and water reflections. Birds, boats, and beaches often feature in his work, which is showcased in galleries across Norfolk and Suffolk, including John Lewis and Jarrolds. Represented in the UK and USA, Keith also leads workshops, simplifying watercolour techniques. With an engineering background, he embraces experimentation, believing great art comes from feeling rather than strict replication.

TOM CRINGLE | Tom Cringle is a Norfolk-born artist and art teacher who has been exhibiting and selling his work for nearly 30 years. He works on large canvases to capture the dramatic beauty of East Anglia's vast skies and sweeping beaches. His work also explores landscapes, figures, and cityscapes, with paintings sold as far as Australia. Tom teaches in forensic and psychiatric care, promoting art for well-being. He is the Arts and Culture Head Steward at the Royal Norfolk Show and founder of 'Creative Freedom,' a non-profit supporting art in mental health.
